

EHS Midterm Exam Schedule - January 2027

To give students more time to complete their midterm exams during class, East Penn High School will follow a modified schedule during the four-day midterm exam window: January 19–22, 2027. There will be no Homeroom during these four days (2 A-days and 2-B days). Instead, students will have extended class periods to allow additional time to complete their exams.

When will midterm exams take place?

- Tuesday, January 19 (Morning): Blocks 1 and 2
- Wednesday, January 20 (Morning): Blocks 1 and 2
- Thursday, January 21 (Afternoon): Blocks 3 and 4
- Friday, January 22 (Afternoon): Blocks 3 and 4

Students should plan to take their midterm exams during their regularly scheduled class periods on the designated days.

What if a student misses a midterm exam?

Students who are absent or unable to complete a midterm with a medical excuse during the scheduled exam window may use the Learning Lab early in the second semester to make up the exam. Students should communicate with their teacher to make arrangements.

Important Reminders

- Be prepared and arrive on time for all scheduled classes and exams.
- Check with your teachers if you have questions about midterm exam expectations or materials.
- Plan ahead to ensure you are ready for your exams. Start to study well in advance.
- Do NOT miss midterm exam days if at all possible.

Good luck on your midterms, Hornets!
