

These types of citations vary only slightly from each other, according to the manner by which the information was obtained: Example #4 is on reverse**

1. an interview contained in a print source:

subject of interview, article title or interview topic, title of print source, name reversed in quotes in italics

Ellison, Ralph. "Indivisible Man." Interview with Famous Authors,

Name of interviewer extra publication date of entire span of Preceded by "By" information interview page #s

By Joan Platte, vol. 27, no. 3, 12 Dec. 1970, pp. 34-50.

2. An interview done in person:

Subject of interview, Type of citation entry date of
name reversed and method of info. acquisition interview

Barto, Brian Gene. Personal interview. 8 March 2012.

3. An interview done via the telephone:

Subject of interview Type of citation entry date of
name reversed and method of info. acquisition interview

Swider, Stacey L. Telephone interview. 28 January 2013.

4. Interview information obtained via an e-mail message:

Writer of e-mail
name reversed

Title or topic of e-mail,
in quotes

Cantonisi, Atoinette. "Results of Cooking Contest."

Recipient of e-mail
Preceded by the words "Message to" date of e-mail transmission

Received by Jason S. Biddleston, 10 Feb. 2014.